TESTIMONY CONFLICTS — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, right, at a face-to-face meeting with Gen. James A. Van Fleet, told Congress that UN forces in Korea have enough ammunition for "present scale" operations and soon will have enough for "a more active type of operations." Van Fleet, former Eighth Army commander, previously told congressional committees there were serious and even critical ammunition shortages in Korea.

Deadlock Looms In U.N. Income Tax Bill As Big Five Nations Seek New Secretary-General

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — S. cooperation was slow in coming in the early stages of the question and that he had been attacked by some Americans, the main part of his speech was filled with praise for the U. S. support of the U. N. and heavy indictment of the Russians and their satellites for failing to give such support.

There was little optimism that Communist and non-Communist delegates would be able to find a person both sides could accept for the $45,000-a-year post.

The 11-nation council's "Big Five" members — the U. S., Britain, France, Russia and Nationalist China — must approve any selection unanimously. Any of the five can veto a nominee.

Lie has declared he will stay on until a successor is chosen despite Russian opposition to him. They denounced him in 1950 for his support of the U. N. stand against Red aggression in Korea and since Feb. 2, 1951, have maintained that he holds his post illegally.

Lie Tuesday threw off his traditional cloak of neutrality—as prescribed by the U. N. charter—and bitterly accused the Russians of putting the crudest sort of pressure on him because of his strong stand on Korea.

He said his attacks on the Soviets "closed the door" for him and he hoped the Council would be quick about picking his replacement.

Lie's denunciation came in a 7,400-word defense of his personnel policies and their relation to the controversial issue of what to do about American employees under him who balked at U. S. loyalty investigations. He spoke at a plenary assembly meeting.

Although Lie complained that U. S. cooperation was slow in coming in the early stages of the question and that he had been attacked by some Americans, the main part of his speech was filled with praise for the U. S. support of the U. N. and heavy indictment of the Russians and their satellites for failing to give such support.

Senators Speculate On Korea Offensive

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bigger issue of whether a new United Nations offensive is planned in Korea overshadowed today a Senate investigation into reported shortages of ammunition.

The Senate Armed Services Committee called a recess in what had been billed as a showdown inquiry into the assertion by Gen. James A. Van Fleet that there had been serious shortages of some kinds of ammunition for the 22 months he commanded the Eighth Army in Korea.

The action was taken after the committee yesterday heard Secretary of Defense Wilson say ammunition supplies have been built up sufficiently to enable the field commander to embark on a "more active type of operations" if such a step should be decided upon.

Wilson's statement, as given out to newsmen, did not say an offensive would be launched. Nor did any of the senators who heard him.

Talks To Committee

Van Fleet, just returned from Korea, spent hours before the committee in a face-to-face exchange with top Pentagon officials, some of whom seemed to differ.

All this exchange was behind closed doors, but prepared statements by Pentagon officials were handed to reporters.

The Army chief of staff, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, said in his statement, "There has never been a shortage of ammunition either to repel an attack that actually developed or to conduct our own operations."

Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass.) told newsmen: "Regardless of what has taken place, I believe we can say that the situation in Korea is good—not perfect—because it never will be."

"But the stocks of ammunition available in Korea today are adequate for the operations contemplated and are rapidly improving."

Reserves Are Increasing — "Furthermore, the testimony is clear that the ammunition reserve stocks in this country, and in the back areas in the Far East are rapidly growing better."

A reporter asked: "Was there any relation between the stalemate talks in Korea and the supplies of ammunition needed?"

"I'm sorry, I can't comment on that," Saltonstall replied after a pause.

A statement from Secretary of the Army Stevens said the Army is borrowing from the Navy 685,000 rounds of 105-millimeter ammunition, and that production of heavier shells designed to blast the Reds out of their bunkers has been greatly stepped up.

Both Stevens and Wilson indicated there have been past shortages of some types of artillery shells, but that corrective steps are being taken.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), who listened to the testimony, said in a statement that Van Fleet had not retreated on his testimony that ammunition shortages "interfered

Truman To Start World Cruise On Stomach Full Of Goodies

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Harry S. Truman will be able to start his world cruise on a full stomach.

The Beverly Hills Wine and Food Society will see to that on March 23, aboard the liner President Cleveland, with its stag supper banquet. The society announced the details today.

The former president and 72 other guests will whet their appetites at the reception with a fine French champagne (Dom Perignon '34) and such rich tidbits as caviar, shrimp and pate de foie gras.

The dinner menu, with its six accompanying wines, is something for any gourmet to behold:

Oysters en half shell, Mikado; pot au feu, Miso Shiru, which is just soup; ebi - no - onigayaki, imperative, which is shrimp cooked in their shells in a Japanese sauce; roast sirloin of beef, Nipponaise; (the chef explains these Japanese adjuncts are mostly to dress up the menu; the sirloin will be just fine beef, that's all); artichokes with mushroom sauce; bean sprouts, sauce Kyoto; endive, Sarada Yoshida.

For dessert there will be: coupe le grand due, which is a way of saying ice cream in half a peach; Genoise legere—a large petit four (that's a cookie) and of course just the regulation-size petit fours. There'll also be macaroons, "cheese varie," which means a lot of kinds; coffee, cigars and, naturally, "grand liqueurs"—brandy, chartreuse, Benedictine and, says the menu invitingly, "others."

The dinner wines are the finest to be had. A French champagne (Mercault - Perrieres '47), a Spanish sherry, a Portuguese sherry, liebfraumilch (a German rhine), a rare Burgundy (Romanee Conti '37.) The dessert wine will be a queenly Sauterne, Chateau d'Yquem '47.

The Cleveland will sail the day after the banquet.

Action Delayed On Nomination Of C. E. Bohlen

Senators Postpone Vote On Naming New Ambassador To Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's nomination of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen to be ambassador to Russia faced further delay today against a background of increasing tension in U. S.-Communist relations.

And the ceremonial funeral of Joseph Stalin was followed by the unceremonious burial by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee of an Eisenhower-proposed resolution to condemn Russia for "perverting" wartime agreements by enslaving free peoples.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said the shooting down of an American fighter plane by two Russian-made MIG jets in the American zone of Germany emphasized a need for speeding Bohlen to Moscow, as urged last week by the State Department, to report on and analyze such developments.

Vote Is Postponed

The plan of GOP leaders had been for the Senate to act on Bohlen's nomination today. But Chairman Wiley (R-Wis.) postponed until next Tuesday yesterday's scheduled vote by the foreign relations committee. He acted at the request of Senators Ferguson (R-Mich.) and Knowland (R-Calif.).

At the same session, the committee voted to postpone action indefinitely on the anti-enslavement resolution urged by Eisenhower. There were no signs it would be revived anytime soon, if at all.

The Senate Democratic Policy Committee had endorsed unanimously the original administration-sponsored resolution. But the Democrats balked when the Republican majority on the foreign relations committee added an amendment saying passage of the resolution would not mean Congress was passing on the validity or the invalidity of the big power agreements made secretly in World War II.

Ends Passage Prospect

That ended all prospect of the resolution's passage by the "substantial unanimity" sought by Secretary of State Dulles.

In view of uncertainty over what may happen inside Russia, most senators now agree with Sen. George (D-Ga.) that it is best to hold up any resolution for the time being lest criticism of the Soviet government unify the people behind Premier Malenkov.

In asking delay on the Bohlen nomination, Ferguson said he wanted to get "certain papers" dealing with the Yalta conference, at which Bohlen served as interpreter for President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Wayne Local School Annex Studied

LISBON — At a special meeting Tuesday night, the Wayne Local Board of Education turned over to the architect for his study, bids received for the construction of an addition at the Wayne Local School near Gavers.

Bert Davis, clerk, said the bids were given to Robert F. Beatty of East Liverpool, who designed the addition, which will include two new classrooms, toilets and another room that may be used for a cafeteria.

Davis said Floyd C. Cox of East Liverpool and J. A. Rader of Dover submitted bids for the general contracting.

A $35,000 bond issue was passed last November to finance the project.

Judge Finds 4th Tavern Man Innocent

LISBON — A fourth East Liverpool tavern man was found not guilty on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor by selling him beer at a hearing Tuesday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin.

Ernest Ball, operator of the New Deal Tavern, was arrested Saturday by Probation Officer Chris Pussey for selling a 16-year-old youth beer.

Ball was found innocent after testimony showed the youth had produced a draft card and questionnaire when asked by the bartender if he was 18.

The youth admitted he had registered for the draft in order to get the card.

Judge Tobin took the draft papers and turned the youth over to his mother.

Judge Tobin said the youth said he knew several youths who had registered for the draft in order to prove they were old enough to drink. When the draft catches up with them, the youths would produce a birth certificate and said they lied about their age in order to get the draft card, the judge said.

Two East Liverpool bartenders and the manager of a tavern were fined a total of $400 and costs Friday and Monday on charges of selling beer to another 16-year-old youth.

Yank Jet Plane Is Downed In West Germany

Europe Views Incident With Alarm; Other Red Violations Reported

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — Two U. S. fighter pilots fired at by two Communist MIG-15 jets over the U. S. zone of Germany said today they were attacked without warning, but did not fire back.

Asked at a news conference why they did not shoot back in self-defense, one replied: "We'd rather not answer that question."

The two pilots gave a personal account of the shooting down of one American jet by two Soviet-made jets from the Czech Air Force. It was the first time Red aircraft had shot down an American plane over U. S.-held territory. The grave incident of the East-West cold war spread alarm over Western Europe.

Lt. Warren G. Brown of Henderson, Colo., parachuted to safety from his bullet-riddled thunderjet. Flees From Attack

His companion, Lt. Donald C. Smith, of Marysville, O., fled from the attack scene seven to 10 miles inside the U. S. zone, near the Czechoslovak frontier without being hit.

Both said that Brown's F-84 was hit without warning.

"We were circling back and forth about seven to ten miles inside our line when these two planes jumped us," Smith said.

Brown, picking up the narrative, added: "The planes crossed in front of us. We started to circle to the left toward the west. One of these planes fell in behind me. He followed me for three or four circuits. I was a little bit confused as to his intention and I tried some evasive action. Then he opened fire and hit my plane."

"It flipped over on its back and I found myself in a dive. It seemed pretty well shot up and I had trouble controlling it. I headed back toward our own base (Fuerstendbruck, near Munich). Then I noticed that my right stabilizer was shot up. Then I lost my right tip tank and noted my wing was coming apart."

Abandoned Plane — "I didn't think I could control it much longer, so I radioed Smith that I was abandoning the craft, which I did."

"I made a successful parachute landing."

Brown's injuries were only minor scratches. The mustache 30-year-old veteran, who had flown 100 combat missions in Korea, wore an adhesive bandage over his left ear.

Smith, 24, who has had 20 Korean missions, said he realized that Brown's plane had been hit. "Then why didn't you fire?" he was asked.

"I'd rather not answer that question," he replied.

Asked if it were possible that the

Two persons were injured when a car driven by Edwin Yarszki, 34, of Canton crashed into the rear of another car operated by Paul Fletcher, 38, of RD 5, Salem, as Fletcher attempted to turn off Route 62 onto Sebring-Pine Lake Road, a mile north of Salem at 5:10 p. m. Tuesday.

Salem State Highway Patrolmen said that the Fletcher's daughter, Patricia Ann, five, who was with him in the car, suffered contusions of the jaw. Yarszki sustained contusions of the head.

Suggestion Of Probe For Reds Among Clergy Causes Flareup

WASHINGTON (P)—Any suggestion that Congress look for Communists among the clergy is a very hot potato. But, while Sen. McCarthy knows a hot potato when he sees it, Congressman Velde juggles it.

That's one difference between these two Republicans—McCarthy of Wisconsin and Velde of Illinois—who nevertheless have some points in common.

McCarthy, 44, and Velde, 43, are both lawyers. Both were judges in their home states. And both are busy beating the bushes for Communists.

Two days ago Velde, chairman but apparently not boss of the House Un-American Activities Committee, which has been searching for Communists in education, made a statement about the possibility of looking for them among clergymen.

The roof fell in. All members of his committee who could be reached were against the idea. And some, but not all clergymen, made statements giving him the icy stare.

Confronted with this reaction, Velde said he may have been misinterpreted. McCarthy, watching Velde try to get his feet out of the flypaper, announced Velde could have any investigation of the clergy all to himself.

"I wasn't aware," said McCarthy, "of his plans to make such an investigation. He has my complete, wholehearted assurance there is not even the remotest possibility of our overlapping."

McCarthy, who began his rise to national attention in 1950 with charges of Communists in the State Department, is still working on the same project. He's chairman of a Senate committee investigating the department's Voice of America.

But there is another difference between these two former judges. McCarthy can walk into a bribe patch and come out acting like a man who landed in a rosebed. Velde sometimes gets scratched up.

"I have been called," said McCarthy recently, "probably every name in the world and it has not been effective against McCarthy. I have been accused of everything except murdering my grandmother."

Velde tangled recently with Mrs. Agnes Meyer, wife of Eugene Meyer, board chairman of the Washington Post. In a talk to a group of school administrators she criticized Velde and plans for investigating schools and colleges.

Velde tried to hit back by saying Mrs. Meyer had been mentioned by Pravda as writing to a Russian journal a letter expressing profound admiration for the people of the Soviet Union.

The Post investigated and found that the writer was not only not

Mrs. Meyer but had a different name and lived in Canada. The Post said when Velde was told he had made a serious error, he refused to retract unless Mrs. Meyer retracted what she had said.

The Post story which told all this mentioned the word "libel." The next day Velde retracted. He blamed the error on an employee of his committee. He said later the employee was fired.

McCarthy has done most of his accusing in the Senate where he can't be sued.

He did sue a fellow senator for libel—Benton, Democrat of Connecticut—for statements connected with Benton's plea to Congress to bounce McCarthy. Benton called him a man of "corruptibility and mendacity."

The attitude McCarthy adopted toward Benton was one of contempt. "That mental midget," he said. Benton was defeated for reelection in 1952 just as another Democrat, Sen. Tydings of Maryland, who also called McCarthy a liar, was defeated in 1950.

Parents Told Child Has Tumor, Not Cancer

BALTIMORE (P)—Doctors who diagnosed a chubby little Louisiana girl said today that her parents don't need to worry about cancer—the youngster only has a minor tumor.

George A. Todd, 28-year-old dock worker, had brought his wife and three young girls here from their home in Harvey, La., in the hope of getting 18-month-old Betty Catherine treated at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

The family arrived here penniless, and Baltimoreans chipped in to help tide them over until they got on their feet. Nearly $600 has been donated. The family has been offered apartment space and Todd has been given a job as mechanic with a tugboat firm.

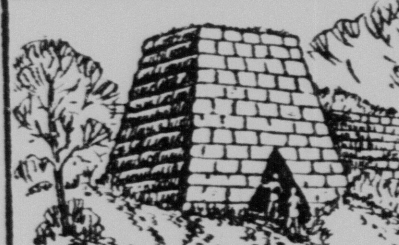

Meantime, doctors at Johns Hopkins said they would operate on Betty next week. They said her condition could be corrected by "moderately simple surgery."

EXPANSION PLANNED

CLEVELAND (P)—Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. said today it would spend 3½ million dollars this year to construct seven new sub-stations and a new transmission substation. The transmission station, to cost more than a million dollars is to be built in Geauga County. Three of the other stations will be in Cuyahoga County, two in Lake County and one each in Geauga and Ashtabula Counties.

Israel's Government Promises Tax Cuts

JERUSALEM (P)—Israel's government has proposed a 216 million pound (605 million dollars) budget for the coming fiscal year. It promises considerable income tax reductions despite a 25 per cent jump over last year's budget total.

The figures were presented to Parliament yesterday by Finance Minister Levi Eshkol, who said that the nation's foreign exchange controls would not be lifted in the near future. He said the government would curtail services and streamline the civil service in order to permit the tax reductions, including exemption of up to 70 per cent of the cost of living allowances for industrial and white collar workers.

Home-Made Bomb Causes Mild 'Pop'

NEW YORK (P)—A homemade bomb exploded mildly in the Radio City Music Hall yesterday. Its "pop" reportedly attracted the attention of only one person in the audience of about 6,000.

Police later said the bomb, a section of pipe filled with explosive and with a mechanical timing device, apparently was the work of "a publicity seeker who's been doing this for years." The suspect was not further identified.

The bomb, placed in the slit upholstery under a seat, singed the coat of an unidentified woman. She said the explosion was about as loud as an electric light bulb exploding.

Tax Agent Promises War Against Gamblers

WASHINGTON (P)—Commissioner of Internal Revenue T. Coleman Andrews indicated today prosecution of gamblers for failure to register and buy an occupation stamp will be stepped up.

The Supreme Court on Monday ruled the stamp tax law constitutional.

Andrews said today: "The action of the Supreme Court will facilitate enforcement of the occupational tax on wagering, since a number of cases involving prosecution under the act have been delayed while the issue of its constitutionality was pending."

Legislature Kills 'Terms' Proposal

Would Limit Years Of Governor In Office

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—A Democrat's proposal to put a constitutional limit on the number of years a governor could hold office was killed Tuesday night by an Ohio legislative committee.

The proposal by Rep. Michael J. Crosser (D-Cuyahoga) to limit the governor to four terms—or eight years—frankly was aimed at Ohio's four-term Democratic governor, Frank J. Lausche. Crosser told the House Public Affairs Committee, to the Republican members' delight:

"I'm a Democrat, too, but this man has been in office four terms now and he might run for a fifth term or a sixth. It's getting to be a problem."

Rep. John V. Corrigan (D-Cuyahoga) remarked before the Republican-dominated committee voted down the proposal:

"I t looks to me you are trying to do something by legislation that you haven't been able to do at the ballot box."

Corrigan offered an amendment he said might give the measure a chance of approval by the voters: Specifically grant Lausche the right to one more term if he could be elected to it.

The committee killed the Corrigan amendment, then on a voice vote killed the entire proposal.

The House Highways Committee started on the long road toward enactment of a bill to require at least annual inspection of all Ohio motor vehicles.

It is essentially the same bill as Lausche vetoed at the last legislative session on grounds it might create a state-wide racket.

The proposed law would license garages as inspection stations and permit them to charge $1.50 for each inspection. It limits required inspections to two a year.

The bill by Rep. Samuel Devine (R-Franklin) passed both houses of the last Legislature with huge majorities. The House overrode the veto, but the measure got lost in the Senate shuffle of the wild final legislative day.

A handful of House bills to increase gasoline and diesel fuel taxes to raise money for highway construction probably will go to a subcommittee of the House Public Affairs Committee later this week. The full committee has held hearings on all the bills and now needs to hammer them together into a single acceptable proposal.

A. J. Moon of Upper Sandusky, Wyandot County engineer and chairman of the legislative committee of the Ohio Association of County Engineers, asked that the subcommittee also consider his group's plea for a two-cent increase in the fuel tax and a $5 increase in the present $10-a-year auto license fee.

The House Taxation Committee drafted a bill to boost taxes on pari-mutual race track betting between three and four million dollars a year, nearly a million less than Lausche has suggested. The bill was drawn by a three-man subcommittee as a substitute for four pending bills on the subject. The full committee planned to consider it today.

The legislature received 39 more bills Tuesday. The total for the session is 514. More were expected today.

Major bills offered Tuesday would:

Create a legislative commission to survey Ohio's 113 boards and commissions to see how many could be merged for economy.

Set an annual $25 license fee on pinball machines and earmark the revenues for the aid of retarded children.

Require the state highway department to seek bids on both concrete and blacktop paving materials for road work. The department now opens bids only to the type of material it prefers for an improvement.

Increase the tax on wine from other states from 12 to 80 cents a gallon.

Raise the ceiling on family income for occupants of public housing from $2,000 to $2,400 a year.

Abolish the state Civil Service Commission.

Require telephone companies to obtain state operating certificates which could be revoked for inadequate service.

Sen. Fred Hoffman (R-Hamilton) proposed a constitutional amendment creating a five-member state highway commission. The commission would be elected in the same manner as other state officials and would appoint the highway director for a two-year term.

St. Looney

By HAL BOYLE

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"Meet me in St. Looney . . ."

There are some cities that make you feel sad when you come back to them, and to me this wonderful old river town will always be one. My feeling for it is like an old love affair in which one partner can't quite quit yearning.

It is nearly 20 years since I first came here, and lost my heart to St. Louis on sight. A young man can't withstand an old city . . . or an older woman. And the reason is simple. They have a history . . . and he would like to have one, too . . . and the quickest way is to share theirs.

Every antique brick in this quiet city on the Mississippi seemed to me to have a story in it. There was a mellow feeling of time past and time present merging in a pleasant pattern. It didn't appear at all impossible to me that on some moonlit night . . . Strolling along a narrow waterfront street . . . I would meet Mark Twain and talk with him . . . and not think it odd at all.

I felt the same way about meeting Fr. Marquette, De Soto, Rogers and Clark, or Dizzy Dean or even Mr. Anheuser-Busch. Ole Diz was in his glory prime then, fogging a fast ball so soon to fade. And a tan tiger called Joe Louis made himself the nation's amateur heavy weight champ here, but even he didn't know how far his fists would carry him.

Oh, it was a fine time and place to be young. The only war a fellow had to fight was poverty. But beer was a nickel a glass, you could get some kind of a meat dinner for two bits, and on $100 a month I lived in a daze of glamor. The paychecks were passed out on the first and fifteenth of the month, and in between paydays you went to the money lender. He gave you a ten spot and the next week he cashed your check and kept $11. This simple, basic idea had made him rich.

I worked the night shift, taking news stories over the long distance phone about holdups in the Ozarks, criminals being electrocuted in the state prison, or somebody in southern Illinois turning his car over on the way home, killing himself and somebody else's wife. I was new at the typewriter, and all the tawdry tales of people in trouble were a kind of romance instead of misery.

The older newspapermen were heroes to me, their gossip of old scandals in the news was the shop talk of journalistic demi-gods. Would there ever be stories like that again, I wondered, and would I get to write them?

Two of my favorite titans were an old copyreader embittered by futility and a long duel with his ulcer, and a rewrite man named Johnny, who had a boy's face, a death-look in his eyes, and an ability to sing "Wabash Moon" in a way you could never forget.

After knocking off work at 2 a. m. we would tour the waterfront, trudging over worn cobblestones from one joint to another. But finally we always settled down in one called "Little Bohemia," run by a Serbian artist named Savo Radulovich. It had sawdust on the floor, red-checked tablecloths, and was lit by candles in bottles. You could lean out the back window and spit in the beautiful Mississippi.

The beer flowed like wine, a phonograph played "Dark Eyes" over and over and over, and in between Johnny warbled "Wabash Moon" and the old copyreader talked of the dead days past when newspapermen were really newspapermen.

One night I looked across one of the tables into the grey eyes of a girl. Later I didn't come to the tavern so much. I walked in Forest Park with the girl with the grey eyes, spilling college poetry in her ears, and listening happily as she told me I was sure to write again see the girl with the grey eyes.

When a man comes back to the town where he was young, all he sees is himself as he used to be . . . And that is always rather sad, no matter how good life has been to him.

Ohio Will Pay Its Share

In the argument between Gov. Lausche and Republican critics over Ohio's proper share of the cost of Pike County highway improvements, these facts should be kept in sight:

1. Ohio wanted the Atomic Energy Commission to build its newest project in Pike County and knew all about the problem of highways. The state was not forced to do anything against its will.

2. A highway problem would have existed without the AEC project in any event. The state's program called for improvements in the Pike County area even before it had been designated as the site for the vast AEC installation.

3. An agreement was reached between the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and Ohio to split a $24,825,000 highway program approximately three to one—$18,170,000 for the Bureau of Public Roads to $6,650,000 for Ohio. This, incidentally, represented a $5,000,000 increase in the federal share over the original split which would have been about 50-50. There was nothing niggardly about the federal government's attitude.

4. Nevertheless, Gov. Lausche's Republican critics straining to open an issue with him are complaining that the state should have asked the Bureau of Public Roads to pay all the cost of the highway improvements in the area. They are accusing Gov. Lausche of being careless about Ohio's interest.

This is unworthy of the Republicans who have started it. It is unworthy of Ohioans. It is certainly a mighty peculiar attitude for anyone who complains that federal taxes are too high.

They are high because too many Americans insist on clipping the U. S. Treasury for expenses they should be willing to pay themselves.

Ohio wanted the atomic-energy project. It got the project. No Ohioan now should give the impression he wants to clip the federal government for money that Ohioans are willing and able to pay out of their own resources.

Keep Speculating!

There have been doubts expressed about the usefulness of speculation on Georgi Malenkov's ideas. It has been said that Malenkov, like Stalin, will operate in the dark.

But there should be no darkness not of Malenkov's making. That was a blunder which aided Stalin—that so many men who should have known better refused to believe evidence in plain sight.

Malenkov, on his own record, believes the struggle for power will be resolved by a showdown between Asia and the rest of the world.

He will do everything he can do to bring Russia, China and India into a close alliance. He may be expected to make it even clearer than Stalin ever made it that the leaders of Communist China are co-equal with the leaders of Communist Russia.

Malenkov is ignorant of the western world. He knows nothing of any land outside the Soviet Union. He, himself, is Asiatic by rearing and political inclination. He does not understand or sympathize with the aspirations of Russians who imitate western ways.

He has systematically got rid of all his rivals and enemies. All Stalin bestowed on him was a chance to fight for his life in the bear-pit of Russian politics, but he starts his ordeal with a better chance of survival than any of the other occupants of the pit.

Before the fight is over and probably before it has gone much further, Americans will know why the struggle for power is occurring in Asia, not in Europe; why Europe may never be involved in another major war; why the most momentous event in the 20th century was seizure of China by an ally of the Kremlin; and even why Americans are fighting in Korea to keep the Communists from taking over the industrial power of Japan.

That would advance the probably date of the showdown between a resurgent Asia and the beleaguered western world by half a century.

Flagged Down

It typifies the neglect of vital issues in this country that everybody is talking about statehood for Hawaii, instead of wondering what will happen to the American flag if it happens.

It has not occurred to politicians that if Alaska were to be admitted to statehood at some time after Hawaii had been admitted, the American flag then would have to be re-designed twice.

If Texas seceded, as it keeps threatening to do, or Vermont decided to live in splendid isolation, there would be still further disturbances in the present arrangement of 48 stars.

Let's discuss realities. With the union in flux, the design of the flag should be fixed in perpetuity by congressional resolution—48 stars, no more, no less, in commemoration of the happy time when 48 seemed neither too few nor too many.

Today's Message

A man is best known by his occupation. It is equally true that while a man is making his occupation the occupation is making a man. It is good when we are able to say, "He was a good man," but it is far better to be able to say, "He was a good carpenter."

The first essential for a good carpenter is a constructive imagination, which is, in turn, the first essential for constructive morals. The man who is able to draw up a plan and interpret a blueprint is in position to plan a life in harmony with God's blueprint for man's future. The man who knows his framework square is in position to recognize principles of right conduct. The man who is known as a finished workman is in position to know the stages of life's completeness and how and when to begin again.

Today is a time of destruction. The world is calling up the sons of her soldiers. To whom shall we look for a future? Who will be able to assemble and build a new order out of the vestiges of a broken civilization? Once a decaying world learned a way of preservation from "the carpenter's son."

—FREDERICK A. RUDDER

Today's Prayer

Straight Shooters Needed In Korean Probes

Investigation of how the Truman-Acheson administration conducted the war in Korea would bring out facts which, far from aiding the Communists, could eventually bring about their defeat.

Objections heard that for Congress to carry on such an inquiry would mean civilians interfering with military strategy really constitute the very reason for making the study.

This is because civilians have already interfered with military operations to such an extent that America today has no truly effective system for the functioning of a top military command, and if large-scale war should break out, great danger of a military disaster of tragic proportions would arise.

The existing system is inferior to that which prevailed in World War II. The Joint Chiefs of Staff is at present a clumsy setup with the status of an advisory committee—not even directly a part of the National Security Council.

Naturally there are those in Congress who want to protect the Truman-Acheson administration from blame, because the truth, when fully exposed, will be politically injurious—as inevitably it must be when incompetence is revealed.

In the interest of obtaining for America an effective top command, it becomes necessary to bring out not the details of military operations at all but the details of how military operations have actually been hampered by civilian interference from the Department of State, which, in turn, reflects civilian interference from allied governments, Generals MacArthur, Almond, Van Fleet and O'Donnell can testify on these points.

There wouldn't be the slightest difficulty, on the other hand, if the top military men in Great Britain sat down together with the top military men in the United States to conduct a war like that going on in Korea.

Military men understand each other. They know what certain weapons can do, and they know that the purpose of a military operation is to win and to end the casualties.

In the Korean War, however, the British Labor party, which was in power when the Korean War broke out, has played an influential part in hampering the Churchill government. Military men in the Far East, in effect, must first get the permission of civilian legislators in London before they can take logical military steps. Plans as to the scope of future military steps have been frequently revealed in House of Commons debates.

The hearings by the Senate Armed Services Committee when Gen. MacArthur was recalled as a result of considerable pressure against his policies by the British Labor government did not bring out all the facts. Some significant messages from the Joint Chiefs in Washington to Gen. MacArthur were first inadequately presented at the hearings and finally were introduced with a second paraphrased version that didn't resemble the first paraphrased message at all.

Just who in the Pentagon was interested in covering up the inefficiency and incompetence of the whole setup whereby confusing orders were transmitted to the field commander, Gen. MacArthur, has never been revealed.

If the new inquiry does nothing more than to show the slipshod methods that have been characteristic of the relations between the so-called top command in Washington and a field commander, it would be the most constructive step from a military point of view that could be taken.

It will be recalled that the testimony showed that meetings of the Joint Chiefs are apparently not run in any businesslike fashion. Gen. Bradley, chairman, told the Senate committee, for example, he couldn't even remember who at the White House instructed him to call a meeting of the Joint Chiefs to discuss recommendations in the MacArthur case. Yet the meeting was called for the very day after Representative Martin, Republican, then minority leader, received from Gen. MacArthur a letter which was never intended to be made public at all, but which made a natural comment on the use of Nationalist troops in Korea. What commander doesn't want all the troops he can get to help him fight a war?

The new inquiry could find out also who was responsible for the instructions in the autumn of 1950 to Gen. MacArthur countermanding in three hours his own orders to bomb the bridges across the Yalu River, over which tens of thousands of Chinese Communist troops were coming in order to kill and maim American boys. Was it someone in the Pentagon, or was it someone in the State Department who frustrated the bombing?

The sad truth is that civilians have been the "strategists" in running the Korean War, and military men, including the Joint Chiefs, have been sidetracked. So deeply ingrained is the idea today that military tactics must be governed by "diplomacy" that, whenever an important step required by military logic is to be taken, it has to be referred to "higher levels," which happen to consist of a few bureaucrats in the State Department, in conference sometimes with some foreign diplomats who know nothing about military strategy at all.

If the new inquiry by a special committee reveals nothing else than the number of times our military men have been hamstrung by civilians in the State Department and in the foreign offices of allies abroad, it would be worth while.

If it only disclosed how weak the present setup is—wherein the Joint Chiefs of Staff so often do not perform any sound military function but operate merely as a relay between the State Department and European foreign offices, on the one hand, and the field commander on the other—it would be very helpful indeed.

If it did no more than to discover why foreign diplomats got high priority for ammunition that went to Europe, where there was no war, instead of to the Far East, where a hot war was in progress, it would be useful and would open the eyes of the American people to the methods and manner of conducting a modern war—not by military men who know how to fight it but by diplomats in foreign offices abroad.

Genovese And Tresca

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

When I read of the quarrels between Mr. and Mrs. Vito Genovese, I could not help but recall that Carlo Tresca, radical editor and anti-Stalinist, was shot down in the streets of New York in January, 1943, and that nothing has ever been done about it. Tresca was killed by an assassin hired for the job from Murder, Inc.

Sokolsky

I had known Tresca well in the days of the IWW when he, Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, Big Bill Haywood, Emma Goldman, Alexander Berkman and others were enthusiastic philosophic anarchists preaching doctrines of human liberty which would today in most parts of the world be regarded as conservative, if not reactionary. Tresca hated Soviet Russia, as did Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman. Elizabeth Gurley Flynn became a leader of the Communist party and has now been sentenced to prison.

Tresca was dramatic and fierce, with a sort of Svengali appearance. Yet, he was a deeply sincere man and was killed for it.

According to Guenther Reinhardt, in "Crime Without Punishment," Gerhart Eisler had told him that Tresca would be killed before it happened. And Reinhardt ties the murder up with Tresca's fight in the Victory Council and the OWI against the excessive employment of Communists in those organizations.

The Victory Council, which the Communists had infiltrated and controlled, was an OWI-sponsored organ of foreign language newspapers designed to stimulate pro-World War II propaganda.

The OWI, at that time, was motivated perhaps by the thought that Russia was our ally, but it got fouled up by overdoing friendship to a point of subservience.

The Victory Council, instead of being dominated by the OWI, was the organ of the Kremlin, and Tresca became a nuisance. John Roman, an agent of the Russian Secret Police, ran the Victory Council, in spite of the fact that it was paid for by the American taxpayer.

Carlo Tresca was killed by being shot at from a car on West 15th Street. The car was abandoned. The ownership of the car was never satisfactorily traced. Whatever suspects the police found, the lines petered out.

The murder has never been solved, just as the murders of Juliet Poyntz and of Gen. Krivitsky have not been solved. It is, however, spoken of freely in the Communist underground that Murder, Inc., was hired to do a professional job on Tresca.

How Genovese's name came into the case is described by Reinhardt as follows:

... In the fall of 1944, the Brooklyn District Attorney's office was given definite information as to who had supervised the Tresca killing, but the authorities neglected to follow up. The man who gave the information was Ernest Rupolo, a convicted gunman. He told the D. A.'s office that Vito Genovese, a Murder, Inc., jobholder, had set up the Tresca murder.

Genovese, then serving as an American Military Government interpreter in Italy, was brought back to face another murder charge that Rupolo had pinned on him, but was never bothered with the Tresca case at all. . .

GENOVESE is now in difficulties with the attorney general because of deportation proceedings. There ought to be a way of finding out from him or his wife just what happened in the Tresca murder.

Surely, the operators of Murder, Inc., cannot be sentimental about their employers, any more than they are emotionally involved in the tasks they undertook.

Therefore, if any of them wanted to tell or found it advantageous to tell, they could make available the facts of this case, particularly the name of the employer.

Although Tresca was a philosophic anarchist who believed in individual rights and that government was a nuisance, he actually foresaw and fought the peril that now faces us.

He was at least 10 years ahead of his time and became a dangerous person because he was telling tales out of the Communist school. He was not the only one who was gifted with foresight, but his reputation as a radical lent credence to what he said and wrote. So, he was killed.

The murder of Juliet Poyntz was a strictly inside job, done by the comrades themselves. Who killed Gen. Krivitsky, after he wrote a series of articles for "The Saturday Evening Post," we do not know. But all indications are that Tresca was killed by Murder, Inc., as a professional job.

No one was ever brought to trial for these three murders.

Sergei Prokofiev

By TRUMAN TWILL

The reaper cut down a Russian musician named Sergei Prokofiev while swinging his scythe through the bloody career of Stalin. No one paid any special attention, though it probably will be remembered with gratitude long after Stalin has been consigned to oblivion with a curse.

This is the stuff musing is made of the kind of musing that puts bloom and color on drab and tasteless events of current history.

All Prokofiev ever did was to arrange sounds to achieve effects pleasant to the ear. One of his arrangements was a childishly delightful thing called "Peter and the Wolf," a musicalization of a story about a little boy and an animal.

But when the pages of the years have been turned and the book of this country has been closed, it is not beyond belief that "Peter and the Wolf" will have been a greater contribution to the values which men live by than the rivers of blood spilled by all of the politicians who were the contemporaries of its author.

When all the pages have been turned and all the books closed, most of the things which seemed to be surprisingly important while they were happening may not even be remembered. No one easily remembers the name of the powerful and influential characters who have cluttered the corridors of time. But school children want to know the obscure creators who painted the great pictures, fashioned the great sculptures and composed the great music.

An hour and a half's worth of bullvoiced oratory at Gettysburg had been consigned to oblivion before the last syllable was spoken. But a few hundred words of purity of thought and word which followed, uttered haltingly in a reedy voice by a man who was called a buffoon by the lords and ladies of the day are pressed freshly into the sensibilities of each new generation.

It has been 104 years since a Polish musician named Chopin died, but when they lugged Stalin away to the mausoleum it was to the immortal music of this once unnoticed arranger of pleasing sounds.

Things like these do not diminish the temporary importance of the people of influence who make themselves felt from day to day while they move among us and flex their muscles. They exercise power.

This is only to suggest that in understanding what they do a sense of proportion helps. It would help them if they had a sense of proportion—and of course some of them do.

They laugh at the perishability of their pomposity. They grin at the thought of how little noted or long remembered will be their strutting, their mastery of the temporal and the material, their mastery of the circumstances of power.

Meanwhile, in quiet garrets and perhaps even in lonely dungeons the permanent and everlasting work of civilization is being everlastingly carried forward by men and women with something creative to add to the world in their gratitude for having lived in it.

It takes all kinds—the Prokofievs and the Stalins, too. This is a timid bet collectible in 2000 A.D. that Prokofiev will be remembered and Stalin will have been forgotten, except as a curse.

Drop That Other Shoe

The Kremlin may need a truce tent more than Panmunjom does. And, no matter how the Russian picture looks at the moment, it could, during the next few months or years, be harder to stop the fighting there than in Korea. When a people's idol falls no other statues seem up to requirements. Our forecast is that for some time to come the Politburo show of shows will fall somewhere between the talent scout searches for a successor to Julius Caesar and the noisier performances of Olsen & Johnson in "Hellzapoppin'."

The boys on Stalin's team trust one another like rival cigaret salesmen, and looking at the top four you get a four-dimensions picture of indoor aggression. Any new facial expression by any member of the group is liable to be construed as a new "border violation."

A wrong word or gesture within the Politburo may be classified as an illegal flight. The Russian people had built Stalin up to the proportions of a god, and there is nobody in the supporting cast who measures up. The successor to Joe must necessarily seem minor league, even to his best friends. Every step the new leading man takes will be measured against a Stalin performance, and cries of "Wrong move!" and "Joe would have known better than that!" will seem permissible inside Russia for the first time in years.

It is not inconceivable that now and then the roar "Take the bum out!" or its Russian equivalent, will be heard through the USSR bleachers.

When the pitcher the home fans consider without an equal leaves the scene anywhere, the new boy, regardless of his fast ball and change of pace, has to settle for minor applause and dodge a pop bottle now and then. And on a team where a half-dozen pitchers consider themselves strikeout wizards there is bound to be trouble, if not bloodshed under the stands.

The tears and messages of condolence side of the USSR and satellite states, are strictly for the birds. For Stalin was not a "good old Joe," and far from a just and noble ruler. He was Hitler without the funny mustache; Der Fuehrer with a better cooling system; Benito without the comedy costumes; Genghis Khan without the ponies; Napoleon without the cocked hat and love interest.

He had been the buddy and co-conspirator with Mussolini and Hitler, willing to see our side crumbled in the dust, and he had double-crossed us after we had rushed to his side in his hour of need. Nice boy? Sez you!

His word was no good and he was a tyrant unmoved by casualties, concentration camps, chain gangs, beaten priests, fake trials, brutal purges and innocent hostages in black pits of torture.

He stabled the Four Horse and played the Four Horsemen "across the board." The best the free world could say for him was that he was resolute, unwavering, patient, wise in his fashion and never took his eyes off his goal posts. He was a man of iron will, iron physique, iron independence, iron expression and iron curtains. If he ever got sentimental he sent iron valentines.

The words "big hearted," "gentle" or "pitying" were never associated with him. No photos show him with a smile or a look of happiness, except those taken when he was taking Churchill, Roosevelt and Truman for rides at Yalta, Teheran and Potsdam.

We see him in a reunion with Adolf and Benito where forked tails flash in crimson settings, where cloven feet rattled on a hot floor. Two voices cry "What delayed you?" the fellow "squating on the coals and giving drinks to poor damned souls" serves drinks in a one-ounce glass here. And there's probably a fight for it. With frequent shifts in loyalties and alliances.

The embarrassing moment of the month was experienced by the cigaret indorser who walked into a TV studio with a copy of Herbert Brean's "How To Stop Smoking" under his arm.

The driver's seat in the Kremlin is hot from the friction of combat teams.

Toughest predicament in the TV audience is that of the fellow who is trying to take the 30-day cigaret test, the seven-day beer test and the 10-day shaving cream test all at one time. . . We are taking the 60-day Pay-No-Attention-To-Commercials-Longer-Than-Half-A-Minute test.

Pvt. Frank Harrigan Tells Of Korea In Letter To Mother

Pvt. Frank Harrigan, son of Mrs. Doris Harrigan of 308½ Ohio Ave., is in Korea, and in an interesting letter to his mother, he has written of his life with the army there. His letter of Feb. 4 says, in part:

"Dear Mom: I've finally reached my final destination here in the rolling hills of Korea and I find that things are not nearly as bad as I thought they would be. As far as safety goes I've got a mighty good deal."

"I thought maybe you'd like to know a little about how we live around here. It's a lot different than in the states, and in some ways, a lot better. We get much better food here than anywhere I've been."

"The weather here isn't much like you've been hearing. It goes down to about zero at nights and could see some of the things I've seen."

Food At A Premium

"Believe me, they'd sure change their ways of thinking. People over here don't have any kind of luxury Americans have. You see hundreds of them picking through garbage cans and trash looking for something to eat."

"Their houses are made mostly of grass and mud. I just can't see how they keep alive. People at home see newsreels of people without clothes and starving to death and they feel sorry but soon forget about it."

"But if they could come over here and see it with their own eyes they wouldn't forget, at least the guys around here don't. I've only seen one paved road since I've been here and that was going through Seoul, the capital of Korea."

"What used to be pretty nice buildings are just blown to kingdom come just like you see in newsreels. Everything is about the same as it was outside of towns. As you go through the mountains all you can see is old straw shacks and rice paddies."

"The army hires Korean labor to do all the pick and shovel work and they are considered some of the lucky ones. The idea of our living in tents doesn't sound too good, but it's almost as good as living in real buildings."

"Each tent has a Korean houseboy to do all our washing, shoe shining and other odd jobs, so that makes it pretty easy for us. Even though we are way back in the mountains, we even have electric lights and radios here, and move every night."

"One thing I don't think I'm going to like around here is the long working hours. Sometimes the guys don't get in till late at night, and I don't like long hours as you know. Some of the truck drivers have to make trips as far as 150 miles one way and on these roads 20 miles an hour is a safe speed. One thing they need around here is truck drivers, so I think I might be put on one."

"Just in case you would like to know I'm about 20 to 25 miles from the front lines and there's quite a few outfits between us and the front so if anything should break we'll find out about it in plenty of time."

"Our company hasn't moved from this spot for more than a year. There hasn't been even a shot fired around here during that time. The surrounding area is so heavily mined no one could creep through. Send me the Salem News if you can."

Rupture Of Vertebral Discs

A number of readers have asked for information concerning a condition known as ruptured intervertebral disc, what it comes from, and whether recovery is possible without an operation.

It is these cartilages which make it possible to bend the back — in other words, they give it flexibility. However, since cartilage is softer than bone, the discs are more likely to be injured, strained or otherwise damaged than the bony vertebrae themselves.

When there is pain in the lower portion of the back or down the course of the sciatic nerve along the back of the leg, a rupture or hernia of this cartilage must be suspected.

Diagnosis is not easy, but can usually be made by a careful study of the history of the pain—that is, whether it followed an injury, and similar information obtained from the patient—by the physical findings, and by what can be seen in an X-ray film.

The X-ray, however, may not show anything immediately after the only cause for backache.

First, what is a disc? The intervertebral disc is a moderately soft cartilage which lies between the bony vertebrae of the spine.

School Census To Be Taken

Building Proposed For Village

COLUMBIANA — Looking toward the possibility of an additional school building for Columbiana, the board of education has ordered an enumeration this spring of all children in Columbiana village exempted school district from birth to the age of 18. The board wants to provide for the future if a proposal for a new building should be submitted and approved by the voters. James N. Campbell of 154 S. Vine was hired for the third successive year to take the enumeration.

The board has not decided on the probable site of a new building, but as the population trend is toward the north, an additional school building would probably be located somewhere in the northern part of town. A site of several acres to provide ample room for play is contemplated.

TAN HAO AN, a Chinese from the island of Java, was the speaker at the meeting of the Rotary Club Monday evening. He said that of the 14,000,000 inhabitants of Java, which compares in size with the State of Alabama, 90 per cent are illiterate, but that education is now making rapid progress. A dependency of Holland for 350 years, Java was subjected to Japanese occupation during World War II, and in 1949 became independent.

The speaker and his wife have been guests over the weekend in the home of William Yoder, west of North Lima, who was instrumental in having them come here. Mr. Yoder, who is with the Citizens' Savings Bank in Columbiana, spent some time in the Far East as a Mennonite rehabilitation worker after the late war and helped seven persons to become students in the U.S. The speaker and his wife are enrolled at Goshen College (Mennonite institution) at Goshen, Ind.

President Robert Maurer gave a report of the district conference in Akron a week previous. Visiting Rotarians were C. V. Harris, Jr., R. Stiver and Glen Broomall, of Salem. Titus Weaver of Girard was a guest of Mr. Yoder, and Joe Reeves of his father, Paul Reeves. Next Monday evening the club will have about 60 Fairfield township 4-H Club members and their leaders as guests at the annual 4-H Club banquet at Fairfield school. Miss Betty Riddle of O.S. U. College of Agriculture, who was a delegate to the international 4-H conference in Denmark, will be the speaker. Entertainment will be by Billy Ehrhart's dancing studio of Youngstown. A. C. Ferguson is in charge of arrangements.

LOUIS D. BAIR, immediate past president of the Kiwanis Club, showed about 250 slides descriptive of his trip of about 10,000 miles to the convention of Kiwanis International in Seattle last summer, at the meeting of the Columbiana club Monday evening.

beds in the Dayton veterans' hospital, at $4 each annually, besides giving each man a pack of cigarettes and a chocolate bar alternate weeks and a $1 bill at Christmas.

Wellsville American Legion Post will be host Friday evening May 8 to members of the Legion County Council and their guests. Visitors' day will be observed Sunday May 3 at the Sandusky Soldiers and Sailors' Home, when visitors will be served a free meal such as is served the inmates. A bus will make the trip from Salem. ## Scientists Say Hen Increases In Efficiency

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Scientists pointed today to the chicken as the heroine of the barnyard. They said if all farm creatures would become as efficient as the hen Americans need never worry about eating well.

Forty years ago the average hen produced about 87 eggs a year's work. Today each hen turns out about 194 eggs in a year.

Her efficiency increased in still another way. She used to require 9.25 pounds of feed for a dozen eggs—now she gets the same results on only 6.9 pounds.

These figures came out today at the National Farm Chemurgic Council meeting, a conference of farm leaders, industrialists and scientists on how to make farming more profitable and efficient.

In an interview Dr. R. M. Bethke, director of research for the Ralston Purina Company, feed producers, said the chicken also has increased in meat-producing efficiency about one-fourth. Broilers now are turned out in about three-fourths of the time it formerly required, he said.

The hen's efficiency has been increased by breeding; by development of new feeding methods; by eliminating disease and by creating new feed elements, the feed experts said.

Weather Restricts Fighting In Korea

SEOUL (AP)—Rain, snow and clouds restricted the Korean War to scattered small raids and patrol fights today.

U. S. Sabre jets patrolled MIG Alley but found no MIGs to fight. All other Allied warplanes were grounded.

Last night 14 B29 Superforts pushed through heavy weather and showered high explosives on a combination officers school and supply dump 10 miles north of Sinanju on the west coast.

On the rugged Eastern Front, Republic of Korea troops patrolled through new-fallen snow and tangled 10 times with North Korean Reds in no man's land. They reported 43 Communists killed or wounded.

The U. S. Eighth Army said Red casualties for the week ended Saturday were 1,380 killed, 920 wounded and 4 captured. The 2,304 total was about 300 higher than the previous week.

On the east coast, the battleship Missouri yesterday shelled the port of Wonsan for the third time in six days. The Navy said the Mighty Mo destroyed seven heavy gun positions and damaged 10. The cruisers Rochester and Manchester also hit coastal targets.

The company, world's largest industrial firm, had a net income during the year of $558,721,179, equivalent to $6.25 a common share after payment of $12,928,313 in preferred dividends. This compared with net income of $506,199,560 or $5.63 a share in 1951, but was below the record of $834,044,039 in 1950.

HERE'S HOW THE NEW '53 PLYMOUTH KEEPS YOU FEELING FRESH—ALL DAY LONG!

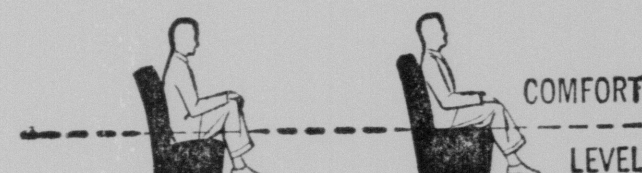

The new Plymouth fights the road for you, not with you! True balance designing "irons out" rough roads to give you a boulevard-smooth ride. Also, it takes the struggle out of steering, reduces the fatigue and nervous tension of long hours at the wheel. In the new Plymouth you know you've got complete control of the car and the road—and it's a mighty comforting feeling!

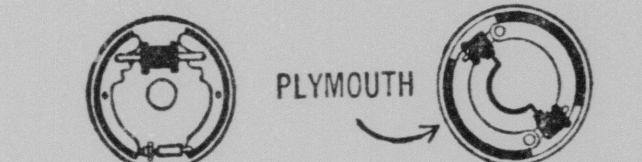

An old-fashioned "Rock of Gibraltar" hood design can keep you tense, on edge—worrying about what you can't see that's directly ahead of the car.

The new Plymouth has a low hood silhouette that lets you see more of the road directly ahead. This is modern styling—with a practical purpose!

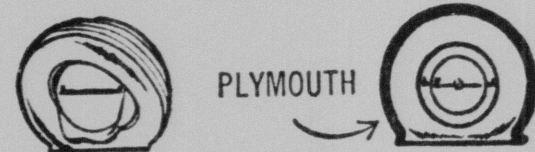

You can't relax, even on a short drive, if you're cramped or crowded in an unnatural seating position. The new Plymouth gives you the lasting comfort and posture protection of Comfort Level seats. Full-depth, full-width coil springs—not the common platform type—always give you correct, cushioned support.

Nothing builds up nervous tension like brakes that give an uncertain, uneven response to the pressure of your foot on the pedal. But with Plymouth's Safe-Guard hydraulic brakes you drive relaxed, confident of smooth, even braking response at every stop. There are two hydraulic brake cylinders in each Plymouth front wheel, where competitive cars have only one, plus greater areas of Cyclebond brake lining that assure longer, more dependable braking.

How can you relax when you have to worry about blowouts? Plymouth's famous Safety-Rim Wheels protect you with special retaining ridges that hold a deflated tire safely on the rim in case of a blowout. These and many other thoughtful Plymouth features add up to the most carefree, as well as the most comfortable, ride ever built into a low-priced car!

Plymouth offers two great lines of cars: the CAMBRIDGE the CRANBROOK. Illustrated below is the 4-door Sedan in the thrifty Plymouth Cambridge line—great value leader of the lowest-priced field. # NCAA Teams Are Picked For Cage Championship

Lebanon Valley Joins Group

Seton Hall Beats Niagara In NIT

NEW YORK (AP)—The 16 teams that will fight it out for the NCAA basketball championship were decided today with only one "outsider" in the select group.

Six teams—Notre Dame, De Paul, Holy Cross, Seattle, Santa Clara and Lebanon Valley—made the regional finals, scheduled for this week-end, last night.

The big surprise was little Lebanon Valley, which defeated mighty Fordham, 80-67, in Philadelphia. In the other half of the twin bill there, Holy Cross humbled Navy, 87-74.

In another double-header at Ft. Wayne, Ind., Notre Dame advanced at the expense of Eastern Kentucky, 72-57, and De Paul barely nipped Miami of Ohio, 74-72.

Seattle gained its spot by whipping Idaho State, 88-77, at Seattle and Santa Clara topped Hardin-Simmons, 81-56, at Palo Alto.

So the regional lineup for Friday and Saturday looks like this and take your pick:

At Chicago—Penn vs. Notre Dame and De Paul vs. Indiana.

At Raleigh, N. C.—Wake Forest vs. Holy Cross and Lebanon Valley vs. Louisiana State.

At Manhattan, Kan.—Kansas vs. Oklahoma City and Texas Christian vs. Oklahoma A&M.

At Corvallis, Ore.—Seattle vs. Washington and Santa Clara vs. Wyoming.

The winners will go to Kansas City for the finals the following week end.

Meanwhile, in New York, top-seeded Seton Hall moved on to the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament by slapping down Niagara, 79-74, and will meet Manhattan tomorrow night. Duquesne topped Western Kentucky, 69-61, and moved on to the other semifinal against St. John's.

De Paul had the closest squeak, winning its game against Miami of Ohio with only three seconds to play. With the count tied at 72-all at that juncture Captain Ronnie Feiereisel dunked a jump shot to end it.

The NAIA tournament in Kansas City moved merrily along with nine games on the night's card. In the big one, Springfield (Mo.) made a good start in defense of its title by mowing down Gonzaga, 95-74.

Findlay (O.) meets Pasadena Nazarene in a NAIA tournament game tonight.

All-Big Ten Basketball Team Picked By Conference Coaches

CHICAGO (AP)—An unprecedented opportunity to watch and weigh the merits of individual stars found conference coaches probably as near to one mind as they'll ever be in selecting the annual Associated Press All-Big Ten basketball team.

For the 1953 team they chose: Paul Ebert, Ohio State, and Irv Demoras, Illinois, forwards; Don Schlundt, Indiana, center, and Chuck Mencil, Minnesota, and Bob Leonard, Indiana, guards.

Three of these players—Ebert, Schlundt and Leonard—appeared on the first-team ballot of every coach.

Second-team choices were Deacon Davis, Iowa, and Ed Kalafat, Minnesota, forwards; John Kerr, Illinois, center, and Al Ferrari, Michigan State, and Jim Bredar, Illinois, guards.

Never before did conference coaches have the chance they had this season to size up the candidates. An 18-game program where in each Big Ten team played every other team twice gave every mentor opportunity for ample study of opposing players.

Schlundt and Ebert could hardly have missed all-star selection by even less-qualified judges.

The 6 foot 9 inch Hoosier sophomore was a record-breaking 24.4-points-a-game scorer and an overpowering factor under backboards in the Indiana title march. Ebert, at 6-4 something of a shorty as Big Ten pivotsome go, played with a weak squad but always more than held his own against bigger men. The Buckeye junior was runner-up to Schlundt in conference pointmaking competition.

Ebert was the only repeater from the 1952 All-Big Ten team.

Hoyt Wilhelm 'Nails Down' Two Of Three Giant Games

By BEN OLAN
AP Sports Writer

Apparently Hoyt Wilhelm never has heard of the second-year jinx.

Wilhelm, last season's National League freshman pitching sensation, still is going about the business of saving games for the New York Giants. The 29-year-old knuckleballer has nailed down two of the three Giant exhibition victories so far.

Yesterday, Wilhelm relieved rookie Allan Worthington in the ninth inning with four runs in, the bases loaded and only one Chicago White Sox batter out. He promptly retired the next two hitters and the Giants staggered off with a 16-4 win.

In his first Grapefruit League appearance last Monday, against the Cleveland Indians, the six-foot 190-pound hurler also showed he had lost none of his magic touch. Then, with the tying runs on the bases in the ninth, he came in to thwart two Tribe batsmen, giving New York a 5-1 victory.

Wilhelm compiled quite an enviable record in 1952. We won 15 games and dropped only three for the senior league's best won-and-lost percentage of .833. Too, his 2.43 earned run average gave him the distinction of being the only relief pitcher in National League history to lead in that department.

This Charlotte, N. C., lad wasn't included in Manager Leo Durocher's plans when he joined the Giants in spring training last year. He had only an 11-14 record with Minneapolis of the American Association. But by midseason he had established himself as the club's No. 1 fireman.

The Giants-White Sox homer-filled encounter was one for the books. New York trailed, 10-8, until they came up with eight runs in the eighth frame. Then the Chisox got to Worthington for their four tallies before Wilhelm snuffed out the rally. Whitey Lockman, Bobby Thomson, Daryl Spencer, Hank Thompson, Don Mueller and Ray Noble homered for the Giants while Chico Carrasquel and Minnie Minoso hit for the circuit for the White Sox.

At this time of the year the pitchers are supposed to be ahead of the batters. But you couldn't prove it by the results of yesterday's games.

At Tampa, Fla., the Washington Senators shelled lefty Ken Raffensberger for nine hits and seven runs in three innings to overwhelm the Cincinnati Reds, 11-5.

Infielder Eddie Miksis hit a grand-slam homer as the Chicago Cubs walloped the Cleveland Indians, 10-4. Yearlings Herb Score, Dave Hoskins and Jake Stricker were the victims of Chicago's 10-hit attack.

The St. Louis Cardinals came up with the first serious casualty of the year in their game with the Boston Braves. Rookie shortstop Wally Lammers, attempting to seal, collided with Jack Dittmer of St. Louis and suffered a mild concussion. Dittmer so was forced to retire from the game.

The game eventually went to Boston, 7-5. They came from behind twice and then scored a pair of runs in the seventh inning to clinch the verdict. Rookie Jim Solt's pinch double was the vital hit in that frame.

In the best-played game of the day, the World Champion New York Yankees blanked the Boston Red Sox, 2-0. A two-run spurge in the fourth inning was enough to give the Yankees their third victory in four exhibition starts.

Bob Wiesler, Johnny Schmitz and Johnny Sain combined to limit the Red Sox to only three safeties.

At San Bernardino, the St. Louis Browns surged for four runs on four hits in the eighth inning to defeat Los Angeles, 7-6.

In a night game, Junior Gilliam, tabbed as Jackie Robinson's eventual successor, singled in the winning run in the eighth inning as the Brooklyn Dodgers edged the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2.

In another arc-lighter, the Philadelphia A's turned back the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-2. Carl Scheib and Frank Fanovich teamed up to limit the Bucs to eight scattered safeties.

Bruins Face Rockets In Hockey Contest

CINCINNATI (AP)—Troy, Ohio's bold Bruins swung into Grand Rapids to try to make it two-in-a-row over the Rockets tonight as Cincinnati moved into Toledo to begin the other International Hockey League playoff series.

Troy over whelmed the Michiganders, 9-3, Tuesday night as the playoffs opened. Originally, the second game in the best of seven series was to have been played Thursday, but the IHL switched the game to tonight.

The victors of the Troy-Grand Rapids and Cincinnati-Toledo series are to tangle in another best-of-seven series to determine the champion.

New York U. Drops Football

High Cost Of Sport Is Behind Move

NEW YORK (AP)—New York University, among the first half-dozen schools in the nation to field a football team, is the latest casualty to the high cost of intercollegiate athletics.

The Violets, who, except for wartime lapses, have had teams since 1873, dropped football Tuesday. Chancellor Henry T. Heald said the move was "based on a frank and realistic appraisal of the cost of football in relation to the total financial status of the university."

N. Y. U., one of the gridiron powers of the country in the late '20s and early '30s under Chick Meehan, cancelled its 1953 schedule which included games with Army, Kings Point, Lafayette, Syracuse, Boston University, Holy Cross, Fordham and Temple.

Coach Hugie Devore, whose contract runs through next year, was offered the post of directing the intramural athletic program, but he hasn't decided what course to follow yet.

In his three-year tenure as coach of the Violets, Devore won four games, lost 17 and tied two. Chancellor Heald did not say the game would be dropped for good.

"Intercollegiate competition in football may be reconsidered at such a time as new conditions make it practicable," he said.

He points out that N. Y. U., with the largest enrollment in the country—56,542—incurred a deficit of more than $10,000 last season, and as a result other sports suffered.

Valdes-Moore Fight Set For Tonight

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Nino Valdes, every inch a heavyweight, steps up as another outsized opponent for light heavyweight champ Archie Moore, currently on a fight-a-week campaign, in a televised 10-rounder tonight at the St. Louis Arena.

The Cuban heavyweight king, weighing about 215 pounds, and St. Louisan Moore, estimated at his usual 175 or 180, move into TV camera range (CBS) nationally and locally at 10 p. m. (EST.)

This will be the fourth start, and the fourth go against a heavy, for Moore since he took the light-heavy crown from Joey Maxim here last Dec. 17.

Tonight's bout will be judged, under Missouri rules, on a split of 10 points a round.

Moore, who stands 6-foot to Valdes 6-foot-3, started the one-a-week schedule last week by TKO-ing Sonny Andrews in five in California.

Valdes did most of his fighting in Cuba prior to 1952, but then moved into New York rings to win four of six bouts, two by KOs. He had a draw in one and lost a 10-round decision to Harold Johnson.

19-Year Old Rookie Southpaw Proving Star Indian Pitcher

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Jake Striker, a 19-year-old rookie southpaw who played for Green Bay in the Class D Wisconsin League, is making baseball's classification system look inaccurate.

The Chicago Cubs, playing an exhibition against Cleveland, collected 10 runs Tuesday in six innings off pitchers from the Class AAA American Association and the Class AA Texas League. But Striker, taking over in the seventh, stopped them cold, giving up only one single and a walk.

The Cubs got six runs from Herb Score of Indianapolis and four others from Dave Hoskins of Dallas.

Chicago won, 10-4, and worked a triple play in the progress. Shortstop Roy Smalley grabbed Dale Mitchell's blow and flipped to Eddie Miksis at second, doubling Luke Easter. Miksis threw to Dee Fondy at first, catching Al Rosen for the third out.

Striker lives at Sulphur Springs, O. Another Buckeye—Joe Macko of Port Clinton—batted a two-run homer for the Tribe in the eighth. He also got a single which figured in a two-run rally in the sixth. Harry Simpson walked and George Strickland singled before he came late at time and Hank Majeski followed him with another one-base blow.

The Cubs play the Tribe here today.

Merchants To Meet

The Salem Merchants Baseball team will hold its second meeting of the season Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Memorial Building. Men interested in playing or working with the team are requested to attend.

40 Teams Will Fire In ABC Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's Jockey-Coopers, featuring Capt. Buddy Boman and Ned Day in their lineup, will command most of the attention in the American Bowling Congress tournament tonight.

The Jockeys, members of the famed Classic League, will come in with an average of better than 1,000, high for the night, which will see 40 open division teams go to the firing line.

Their aim, of course, will be to dislodge the Cincinnati Budweiser Beers from the top rung, which they command with 3,106.

Three changes in the top 10, two in singles and one in doubles, resulted from Tuesday's competition.

George Ehrenberg, 19-year-old Chicago sign painter, vaulted into second in the singles with 702, due largely to an opening, tourney high-game tying 288. He followed with 178-236 to put him nine pins from leading Joe Calabrese, of South Hackensack, N. J., who has 711. George Minten, of Menominee Falls, Wis., slipped into third with 700 on 291-234-265.

The doubles change was recorded by a Wisconsin pair from Waukesha, Byron McDaniels (648) and Don Nesta (628) totaled 1,276, including high single game thus far — 569 — to gain 10th spot in the standings.

TENNIS TOURNEY SET

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Doris Hart, top seeded woman in the Masters Invitational Tennis Tournament, tangled today with Joan Merciadis of Modesto, Calif., who scored an upset Tuesday.

The 20-year-old brunette making her first tennis tour used a good backhand and stamina to defeat Mrs. Barbara Scofield Davidson of Boston.

Miss Hart, of Coral Gables, won over Alicia Wright of Quayaquil, Ecuador, Shirley Fry of Akron, O., beat Juliana Copeland of Ponte Vedra Beach, and is idle today.

Newspaper Forum Develops Into Old-Fashioned Meeting

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A newspaper forum has developed today into an old-fashioned town meeting reflecting the gripes, hopes and fears of a whole nation.

Opening its seventh year's program, the Bulletin Forum has tapped deep wells of controversy and opinion to bring into open discussion:

1. A union leader's belief that private enterprise is going to take over public power projects and that "Du Pont and General Electric will take over (the atomic energy program) for a song."

2. A senator's conviction that the Democrats for 20 years have been "beating the brains out of the private enterprise system" and it's time that private enterprise got a break.

3. A rabbi's plea that "ours is an age of much fear and little faith—and that faith in God must be restored for happiness and peace."

4. The dispute over whether congressional investigations are going beyond the bounds of reason and whether they give enough protection to witnesses called before them.

In these and other topics of discussion, the Bulletin Forum has taken on the atmosphere of a neighborhood meeting drawing packed houses and disclosing a strong public reaction to open discussion of ticklish questions.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.), in the role of a defender of public enterprise, told the forum last night: "It hasn't been so much the laws passed in the last 20 years as it has been the attitude of our leadership in condemning and if I may use this expression, please, beating the brains out of the private enterprise system..."

James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO, challenged the fairness of this statement and retorted: "In those 20 years, senator, business had a period of prosperity. They are doing so awfully well that they have now taken over the government."

And then Carey went on to say that private enterprise will take over public power projects like the Tennessee Valley Authority and also the nation's atomic energy program on which he said the government had spent 20 billions of dollars.

The plea for greater faith came from Dr. Louis Binstock, chief rabbi of the Temple Shalom, Chicago, Ill. who said:

"Ours is an age of much fear and little faith. The original sin of our time is lack of faith..."

"It is the kind of world (man) had fashioned that has torn him apart... With the power of faith, let him put himself together again... Then and only then will the world be truly together again. Then and only then will man find happiness and peace."

Audience reaction was sharp—and divided—to the argument over congressional investigations and whether they have become a threat or a safeguard to freedom.

Roger Baldwin, chairman of the National Committee of the American Civil Liberties Union, contended Congress has begun to move into the field of "opinion and thinking"—and that this is a dangerous thing.

Lisbon School Board Renews Health Contract

LISBON — The Lisbon Board of Education renewed a contract with the Columbiana County Health Department for a school health program, at a meeting Tuesday night.

The program costs the school about $1,100 a year on the basis of $1 per pupil. It has been in effect for three years.

In other business, the Board authorized the purchase of $200 worth of slag for around the new Lincoln School.

William Ashton, president, was in charge.

Search Futile For Men Missing In Coal Mine

EMERY, Utah (AP) — Two men missing in an abandoned and burning coal mine may have to be sealed inside, Emery County Sheriff Joseph Holman said last night as weary rescue crews temporarily suspended their search.

The rescuers planned to resume efforts today to reach Albert Ricci Jr., 24, helper, Utah, and Wright M. Scott, 35, St. George, Utah, who entered the smoldering mine Monday.

The rescue crews fought cave-ins, smoke and gas, throughout yesterday.

COURTHOUSE CHANGE MADE

LISBON — Courthouse workers completed dismantling of the old switchboard office in the first-floor corridor Tuesday afternoon. The office will be used for a storeroom for janitors. The switchboard was moved to the basement three years ago.

Leetonia

Teenage Dance Series Begin Tonight At Gym

LEETONIA — The first "teenage" dance sponsored by the American Legion, Eagles and Sons of Italy will be held at the high school gym this evening. Students from both public and parochial schools, from 7th through 12th grades are eligible to attend.

Adequate supervision and chaperons will be provided by the sponsoring organizations. A committee of two men from each organization sponsoring the dance will be the general committee in charge. They are William Lodge and Harry Kleber Jr., of the Legion; Dale McCormick and Paul Sevenich of the Eagles; Frank Citino and Jack Rose of the O.S.I.

Two more teenage dances are scheduled, April 8 and May 6.

American Legion members will meet this evening at their headquarters. The legion plans to sponsor two Junior Class boys to the annual "Boys State" which will be held at Camp Perry from June 12 to June 21.

Members of the Deborah Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church are sponsoring the sale of souvenir Sesquicentennial auto tags with "Leetonia" designed on them. They will be at Kleber's Dry Goods Store.

Miss Jessie Nicolette left Sunday for an extended visit with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Riise at Altadena, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Calladine and Dr. and Mrs. Guy Nicolette are on a two weeks motor trip to Florida and other southern points.

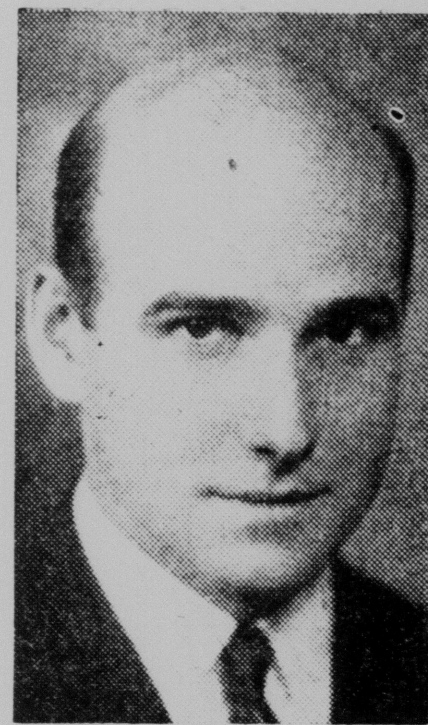

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Waddell attended the 50th wedding anniversary celebration of Mrs. Waddell's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Albright, at East Fairfield Sunday.

Canton Lawyer Admits Lying Under Oath

CANTON, O. (AP) — A Canton lawyer testified Tuesday he lied in a Tuscarawas County courtroom because another attorney threatened him.

Frank Blanc made the statement as a prosecution witness in the professional misconduct trial of a third lawyer, Ian Bruce Hart, son of Ohio Supreme Court Justice William Hart. A bar association committee asks that Hart and Blanc be disbarred.

Blanc previously was sued by the Uhrichville Knights of Pythias over property rights to a property there. It was in that trial, he said Tuesday, that he told some lies because Attorney John A. O'Donnell of Dennison threatened him.

600 Are Arrested In Pakistan Riots

LAHORE, Pakistan (AP) — Riots against a minority Moslem sect and Foreign Minister Sir Mohammad Zafullah Khan—one of the sect's most influential members—have led to the arrest of more than 600 persons in the Lahore area since Sunday, authorities said today.

Special military courts sentenced 36 persons yesterday to punishments ranging from lashes to seven years imprisonment for breaking martial law regulations. Military rule was imposed here last week after six demonstrators were killed by police fire.

About 800 persons have been taken into custody throughout Moslem Pakistan during the past week as a result of similar disturbances. The rioters have been demonstrating against Ahmedya sect members and demanding the resignation of the foreign minister. Many Pakistanis resent Zafullah Khan's failure to settle the nation's dispute with India over Kashmir.

'Buried' Money Is Factor In Lias Tax Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — A mere $15,000 loomed large today in the government's tax claim of nearly three million dollars against William G. Lias.

But it wasn't the amount so much as the condition of the $15,000 which made it the center of interest in a tax court hearing involving the Wheeling, W. Va., race track owner and former gambler and bootlegger.

Had it been burned or buried? Had it disappeared in 1945 or was it some other money that Lias had, perhaps, put away and forgotten? At the moment Judge Clarence P. LeMire had only conflicting testimony to rely upon for his enlightenment.

It was a government witness, Mrs. Guilla P. Burke of the Treasury Department, who Tuesday unexpectedly added to the mystery. All previous witnesses had said the money, including a number of $100 bills, had been burned. She said that as supervisor of mutilated money for the Treasury Department she was certain it had been buried.

Lias' lawyers were so surprised by her testimony that they had a court subpoena issued to have the Treasury bring the disputed money to court tomorrow so that everybody could have a look at it.

Lias and witnesses in his behalf had testified that the money had been found in a wooden cabinet in 1951. The cabinet, they said, had been in a Lias gambling establishment and had been involved in a fire in 1949. The money was found, they said, when the cabinet was dismantled two years later. They remembered, they said, that $15,000 had disappeared in 1945 and they assumed the money had been in the cabinet ever since.

Nine Are Missing In Tanker Explosion

NEW YORK (AP) — The Coast Guard reported today that 23 crew members of the broken Liberian tanker Angy had been rescued but that eight ship officers and the captain's wife are missing.

Three Coast Guard cutters and a plane are speeding to the storm-tossed area some 400 miles southeast of St. John's, Newfoundland, in the hope of finding the forward half of the vessel afloat with the missing persons clinging to it.

According to crew members picked off the stern section of the tanker, the vessel caught fire and exploded three days ago. The cause of the fire was not immediately explained.

The men were rescued by the Waterman Steamship Line's 6,492-ton freighter, Clairborne, bound for Cherbourg, France.

Jet Plane

alien pilots thought the American planes were in Czech territory, Smith answered. "Of course, it's always possible that they could make a mistake—but we were not."

While the news conference was being held at the U. S. Air Force headquarters here, however, Bavarian Interior Minister Wilhelm Hoegner announced in Munich that police had reported five frontier violations by Czech planes Tuesday.

West of Czech Border
Smith and Brown estimated they were seven to ten miles west of the Czech border when they first sighted the MIGs and possibly about 15 miles west when Brown's plane was shot up.

About 2½ minutes elapsed between the time they first spotted the MIGs until the MIGs disappeared after Brown's plane was hit, Smith said.

U. S. Ambassador George Wadsworth at Prague was ordered by Washington to draft and deliver "the strongest possible protest" to the Czech Communist regime. American High Commissioner James Bryant Conant in Germany denounced the "wanton shooting" and warned that U. S. forces here "will know how to deal with future incursions of this type."

Europeans were quick to note the Communist aerial attack occurred just a day after Georgi Malenkov, the new leader of the Soviet world, had promised in Moscow to continue Stalin's "policy of preserving peace."

In such previous Communist-American air incidents as the 1950 loss of a U. S. Navy Privateer in the Baltic, the Soviet government had claimed that its own frontiers had been violated and Red Air Force fighters shot at.
